Local Board Receives Blanks
and Has Started Upon Period of Hard Work

RECENT ENLISTMENTS
DO NOT REDUCE QUOTA

Minter of Opinion That First
Call of Two to One Will Not Furnish List

Just as soon as it is possible to do the clerical work, the Orange County Exemption Board
No. 1 will notify the first 362 men drawn in this district to appear for physical examination. In the north end of the county, No. 2
district will order the first 408 men drawn to appear. These notices will probably not be ready for mailing before Wednesday of this week.

This morning G. W. Minter,
chairman of the local board, received the official list of numbers,
together with a large quantity of blanks to be used in the work of the board.

Claims for exemptions are to be made upon blanks to be furnished by the exemption board.

Outline Is Given

"The procedure as outlined for us
is as follows," said Minter:

"First, we must make up a list of the numbers and names in the order
they were drawn so far as they have any bearing upon our district.

"Second, we will send notices to each of the first 362 names drawn to appear for physical examination. We are to call in twice the number of our quota of 181. These notices will go through the mail. Blanks for those notices have been provided for us.

"Third, at the time of the physical examination any person claiming exemption upon any other ground than for physical defects shall say so, and blanks for his affidavits will be furnished him by mail. These must be filled out and returned to this board within five days. All representations for exemption must be made on affidavits. This board is not to allow anyone to appear in person, according to our instructions.

"We are going to proceed as rapidly as possible. We have an instruction to the effect that we may withhold sending notices to aliens to appear for physical examination pending
the decision of congress as to whether or not aliens shall be drafted."

Depends On Enlistments

Minter said that he was hopeful that a deduction would be made from the quota of 181 for this district for each person who is in the first army
list who has joined the army or navy
since the draft numbers were drawn.
He said that he believed that a large proportion of the men first drawn have sought to enlist or already are enlisted in some service of their choice. Hope that deductions would be made for those enlistments were dispensed by the following item appearing in a Los Angeles paper:

No allowance is to be made in making up the selective quotas for Uncle Sam's new army for those eligibles who have enlisted in the existing fighting forces.
This was made clear yesterday in a telegram from Provost Marshal General Crowder to G. C. Greenwood of the Hollywood selection board.

Hundreds of registrants whose names were drawn for the first quota have enlisted and many more are expected to go into the service before examination time.
This means that just that many more must be called before the selection boards to fill in the gaps.
"If that course is followed," said Minter, "and if we are not allowed to draft aliens it will take a great many more than the first 362 to secure our quota."

Various Affidavits

Among the affidavits to be used in claims for exemption are those for ministers, students of divinity, and persons with certain religious beliefs.
There are those for occupational exemptions and those for persons having dependents. There is an affidavit that can be made out by a married man, with or without children, and one for a son having aged parents dependent upon him and one for a brother who is supporting a brother or sister under 16. These affidavits must state the amount of income of the claimant and of the alleged dependent during the year previous, independent of that received from the husband's labor.

Amazons In Death Pledge
To Slay Selves If Captured
Each Carries Poison Potion

By William G. Shepherd, United Press Staff Correspondent

PETROGRAD, July 30.—Russia's women soldiers have pledged themselves to take their own lives rather than become German war prisoners.

Each woman soldier carries a ration of cyanide of potassium to be swallowed in event of capture. The members of the women regiments, now constantly increasing, agreed that death was to be preferred to the fate
they would probably meet at the hands of the Germans.

The legion of death fighters are "good killers." I learned this today
when I talked to five of them, now in a hospital near here, suffering from shell shock. From a woman's lips I heard how she had run a German through with her bayonet, firing the rifle at the same time. From others
I heard how these women and girls,
fresh from comfortable homes and universities, went leaping over mangled, bloody bodies in the charge with the enemy shells bursting all about them.

HUNDREDS DRILLING

But these harrowing experiences of the women fighters have steeled them and hundreds of other girls, to a new determination to see it through. Girl soldiers drilling in the streets are now a common sight in Petrograd. Huge crowds gather daily about the engineers' school, where 1000 girls are drilling, preparing to go to the front.
In Moscow 1000 more are training while Kiev and Odessa have smaller bands. Premier Kerensky has also authorized the formation of women
marine detachments and has promised to assign them to ships. The new women commands attempt no sort of decoration. Their heads are shaved and they wear the regulation uniform,
including the heavy, ugly army boots.

The five women fighters I visited at the hospital were partially paralyzed
by shell shock. One of them, a peasant girl, smiled joyously as she pointed to a German helmet on the bed beside her. It was the first war prize of a Russian woman.

TELLS KILLING GERMAN

"I saw a German in front of me as I ran forward with the others in the charge," she told me. "It was his life or mine. I raised my rifle. I plunged with all my strength. I stabbed him.
The bayonet went deep into his body.
The same moment I pulled the trigger.
He dropped dead. Then I took his hat as a souvenir.

The girl soldier smiled with delight.
"What was the battle like?" I asked another of the legioners.

"I was very nervous just before the charge," she replied. "We knew the order was coming and naturally we were just a little scared, but as soon as the orders to go forward came, we forgot everything else in the advance."
"I could hear our girls yelling and shouting throughout the night for war duty. None of us was afraid once we got started. We were in the midst of a great fusillade of shots. Then terrific big shells began breaking all around us.

FRIGHTENED BY CORPSES

"We were again frightened a little

when we first saw dead men about.
But before very long we were jumping over bloody corpses and quickly forgot all about them."

"We couldn't tell what was going on anywhere," said a third girl in describing the final stages of the battle.
"Commander Bochkoreva was everywhere in our midst, urging us to fight
and die like real Russian soldiers."

Then the girl told how the legion took its first prisoners.

"As we ran forward we suddenly came upon a bunch of Germans immediately ahead of us. It was only a second until they were right in our midst—or rather until we were all around them. They saw they were caught and threw down their rifles, throwing up their hands. They were terribly frightened.

FORGOT SELVES ENTIRELY

"Good God! Women! They exclaimed. "We saw wounded German soldiers raising themselves on their elbows and shooting," injected another wounded girl.

"We just forgot ourselves entirely.
We were simply Russia fighting for her life. The loss of Lena, the most popular member of our company, was keenly felt by all of us," she added sobberly.

"During the battle Lena heard that Commander Bochkoreva had been killed.
She hurried forward into the shell
fire, saying she was going to find her.
We saw her go through one space
literally strewn with exploding shells.
Then through the smoke and flames,
we saw her blown to fragments.

"We also lost Sonia. She used to be a musician with the Romanoff concert organization. She was killed by machine gun fire."

Petrograd has not yet seen the full casualty list of the legion of death.
None has been published. From what the girls say, however, it appears that at least a dozen big shells struck square in their midst, killing perhaps twelve girls and wounding twice as many more.

CAPTURE TEUTON WOMEN

Five of the German prisoners the girls captured were women, wearing the German soldier's uniform.

The number of women in all armies
on the eastern front is believed to be growing steadily.

Mrs. Pankhurst, the British suffrage leader, thinks it only natural that this should occur.

"The Russian women," she said today, "are stepping into the breach as women always do when men need them."

"Russia's women are fighting the menace to what remains of civilization," declared Prof. Ross of the University of Wisconsin.

"As I returned from the hospital
where I saw the paralyzed girls, I met a new company of women marching briskly through the street. They were ready for the firing line, ready to give their lives in battle and with their little ration of cyanide ready to take their own lives to avoid worse than death at the hands of the enemy."

Carson's suggestion that the first step toward peace would be for Germany to announce her willingness to surrender occupied territory.

Count Czernin's statement was along the usual Germanic lines, asserting complete agreement between Germany and Austro-Hungary and reiterating the old plea that Germany's enemies were responsible for continuation of the war.

Of curious collateral interest in the peace talk was an interview attributed to Dr. Erzberger at Zurich, in which he declared if he could talk with Premier Lloyd George or Foreign Minister Balfour a few hours "an understanding" which would permit
peace negotiations would result.

The Michaelis and Czernin statements come on the eve of the Moscow conference of Russian governmental leaders. This coincidence was too striking not to arouse comment here.
Moreover, it was pointed out that the German strictures on the allies' "aims of conquest" were probably carefully prepared with the idea of creating distrust in Russia against England and France, in view of Russia's insistence on a war policy of "no annexations."

Press Ignores Statements

This afternoon's newspapers virtually ignored the Michaelis and Czernin statements in their editorials. The Westminster Gazette, however, recalled Premier Ribot's promise a short time ago to publish in full the text of all agreements between France and Russia and suggested this would give full proof of the falsity of the German agreements.

JUNE SETS MARRIAGE
RECORD IN STATE

SACRAMENTO, July 30.—War was shown today to be Cupid's best friend.
Not only was June the greatest month of brides in California's history, but the first six months of 1917 exceeded
all records for marriages in this state.
Reports to the state registrar today showed 498 more couples were married last June than in June 1916, a 14.5 per cent gain. The total marriages last June was 3922.

The marriages during the first six months of 1917 totaled 17,080, as compared with 14,179 last year, and 14, 628 in 1915.

10 COUNTY MEN
PASS TESTS AS ELIGIBLE TO OFFICER CAMP

About 1500 Californians Are Available From Which 478
Are to Be Chosen

Declaring himself as being well pleased with the quality of the men accepted by A. S. Ralph for examination as to their fitness for entry to the second officers' camp at the Presidio, Lieutenant Colonel Samuel
F. Bottoms, coast artillery, yesterday accepted eleven men from Orange county as candidates for the camp.

The men who passed the examinations were Arthur E. Collins, E. G.
Freeman, F. L. Worden, Charles E.
Parslow, E. T. McFadden, Santa Ana;
W. O. Hart, Lewis W. Thompson, Orange; Stanley Chapman, E. J. Marks,
C. C. Jones, Fullerton.

Two men who were examined failed to pass on physical grounds. They were Clyde C. Whitney, Santa Ana, and B. P. Northrup of Fullerton.

Northrup Recommended

Marshall Northrup of Santa Ana was recommended to Lieutenant Colonel Bottoms by Ralph for examination and Northrup will go to Los Angeles tomorrow to take the tests.

The examinations, which were held in the offices of the Orange County Auto Club, 11½ East Fourth street, began at 9:30 a. m., yesterday morning and continued until 2 p. m. The examinations were rigid and, broadly,
the applicants were examined as to their personality and physical condition. Points were allowed for various qualifications, such as military and business experience and executive ability. It was required that each man examined be able to make 140 points.

1500 Apply

There are approximately 1500 men
in California who have applied for entry to the second officers' training camp. Of these 478 will be chosen.
Inasmuch as Lieutenant Colonel Bottoms expressed himself as pleased with the material given him here
for examination it is considered likely that a fair per cent of the men passed yesterday will be finally selected.
Those chosen will be notified by cards
to be mailed on August 10.

Two men notified to appear yesterday failed so to do. They were Gerald R. Simpson and S. J. Browning, both of Anaheim.

CHICAGO STRIKE
OF SWITCHMEN
IS SETTLED

Men to Return to Work Immediately; Murdock Declines to Bare Terms

CHICAGO, July 30.—Railroad and union officials were co-operating today
in repairing the congestion of traffic resulting in the two-day strike of the Chicago switchmen, which was settled early today. It was announced from both sources that freight and passenger service on all of the nineteen roads affected would be normal within twenty-four hours. Many of the railroads were operating more than their usual quota of switchmen
in an effort to clear up the congestion.
On some of the railroads—the majority of whose switchmen had struck—a 24-hour tieup had resulted and it will take fully that long to restore normal conditions. Passenger traffic was little affected at any time.

The strike—called by switchmen
members of the Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen early Saturday to enforce a closed shop—had a spectacular ending. The settlement was brought about almost solely through the efforts of representatives of the other three big railway brotherhoods
—the Order of Railway Conductors,
the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, and the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Enginemen.

These men, who arrived here yesterday afternoon, went into conference
with the General Managers' committee last night.

Early today they received G. W. W.
Hanger, member of the Federal Board of Mediation and Conciliation.

Later, James Murdock, vice president of the Trainmen's Brotherhood and the man who called the strike, was called into a separate meeting of the other brotherhood representatives.
What they said to Murdock, and what
Murdock said to them, was withheld.
Some of those present, however, said that Murdock "got H—," to use their own expression.

After Murdock's departure, the brotherhood representatives again met
with the General Managers' commit-

GENERAL OTIS, FAMED PUBLISHER, CALLED
BY DEATH IN L. A.

LOS ANGELES, July 30.—General
Harrison Gray Otis, owner of the Times, died this morning.

Death was due to the bursting of a blood vessel in the heart. General Otis died suddenly while at breakfast
at the home of his son-in-law, Harry Chandler.

Harrison Gray Otis was born in Washington county, Ohio, February 10, 1843. He was a son of Stephen and Sarah Otis. He was the youngest of sixteen children in his father's two families.

Otis' parents were pioneers of Southern Ohio, emigrating from East Poultney, Vermont. His mother, a native of Nova Scotia, emigrated with her parents from Boston early in the century.

tee and announced that they were authorized to make a settlement.

CHICAGO, July 30.—The joint conference of the joint brotherhood heads and of the railroad managers adjournd at 7:20 a. m. The conferees announced that the switchmen's strike
had been settled and that the men would return to work immediately.

The settlement, it was stated on behalf of the railroads, was on the basis of an adjudication of all questions in dispute save that of the closed shop,
by a committee composed of the railway trainmen and the general managers. The railroads announced that under the settlement the Switchmen of North America now employed would retain their positions.

The railroad brotherhood went into conference at the Great Northern hotel immediately after they left the joint conference and said a statement might be made later.

Declines to State Terms

James Murdock, vice-president of the Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen, who ordered the strike and led the striking switchmen, simply announced that the strike had been settled, but declined to give any terms. He said that he had sent out committees at once to notify the strikers and that they would all be at work before 9 o'clock.

A. J. Lovell, vice-president of the Engineers' Brotherhood, would add nothing to Murdock's statement.

The railroad managers issued a supplemental statement saying that the strike had been settled through the intervention of the Brotherhoods of Railway Conductors, Engineers and Firemen and Enginemen. The managers said that the affiliated brother-hoods had ruled that the Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen were in the wrong in ordering the strike, "which had as its main object ousting the Switchmen of North America in Chicago yards."

Settled in 54 Hours

The strike was settled approximately fifty hours after it had been called and in that time had tied up about fifty per cent of the transcontinental freight traffic of the United States. It was said that the intervention of three brotherhoods was largely caused by the attitude of the general government that stopping of railway supplies would be promptly followed by federal intervention in some form.

During the conference George W.
Hanger of the Federal Board of Mediation and Conciliation was called in and the situation explained to him. He declined to say what he had told the conference, but settlement followed soon after.

BIG MILWAUKEE BAKER
TO BAKE FOR ARMY

CAMP FREEMONT, Menlo Park,
Cal. July 30.—Captain Paul J. Strain, before the war, head of the largest baking company in Milwaukee, will cook the bread for the men of the Twentieth guard division when they mobilize here. He has abandoned his business to serve his country.

URGES YANKEES SENT TO RUSS WAR FRONT

SAN FRANCISCO, July 30.—One hundred thousand American troops sent to the Russian front would form
the nucleus for building a Russian army of 1,000,000, capable of delivering a knockout blow to Germany,
General Michel Yassukovich, of the Russian army, declared today.

General Yassukovich is en route to Washington to become head of the Russian military mission.

SURGEONS SEEK WATCH
STEM IN MAN'S BODY

LOS ANGELES, July 30.—Police surgeons today are probing the vitals
of Asa Sumner searching for a watch stem which was driven into his abdomen in an automobile collision. He will recover.

NEW TRIAL GRANTED
THOMAS MOONEY

SAN FRANCISCO, July 30.—Attorney General Webb of California today gave his consent for a new trial for Thomas Mooney.

Otis was a Union soldier and officer in the Civil War and Brigadier General and Brevet Major in the United States Volunteers in the war with Spain.

Otis was editor and principal owner
of the Los Angeles Times from 1882
until his death.

His grandfather was a Revolutionary war soldier. The first Harrison
Gray Otis was once a United States
Senator from Massachusetts.

General Otis was reared on a farm and attended a common school in Ohio until 14 years of age, when he left home to learn the printer's trade.
He attended the Weatherby Academy
at Lowell from 1856 to 1857 and subsequently graduated from Granger's Commercial College at Columbus, O.

SLAV WARRIORS
AS MINISTERS
FORECAST

Russ Government Is to Meet With People's Representatives Tomorrow

PETROGRAD, July 30.—Russia and Rumanian troops are putting such force behind their offensive in the Putna sector that the pressure of German advance in the Tarnopol region has been noticeably lessened. Kerensky at the front is today conferring on the military situation.

PETROGRAD, July 30.—Russia's
government will take counsel tomorrow with the Russian people on the crisis at home and at the front. Out-of these deliberations may be expected to come more unity in complete stamp out of traitors and in granting dictatorial powers to government heads.

Tomorrow's conference at Moscow
is between the provisional ministry and representatives of two great as-semblies who come nearest to representing the voice of the people in Russian affairs. They are the workmen's and soldiers' congress and the peasants' congress. Both are volunteer elective bodies of men chosen by the plain people.

A coalition cabinet is regarded as certain to result from the meeting.
Re-entry of the Cadet party has been forecast and there was complete adjustment of the ministerial power.
Premier Kerensky was today reported as ready to turn over the posts of army chief and navy head to two army and navy officers. He was at the front today conferring with various commanders and considering this plan of putting Russia's military power in the hands of trained military officers.

Today's news from the front indicated considerable improvement in the morale of the soldiers—even of those most likely to be affected by the disgraceful retreat of the eleventh army.
A straightening out of the Russian line to offset the wedge driven into the front around Tarnopol and relieve the dangerous situation there is under way.

PATROL CLASHES REPORTED

LONDON, July 30.—Field Marshal
Haig today reported small patrol encounters around Bullecourt and Ache-ville.

MAN IN 'ALTOGETHER'
FRIGHTENS L. A. WOMEN

LOS ANGELES, July 30.—Women
screamed, blushed and hid their faces and children ran panic stricken to their mothers yesterday when a man dashed wildly about exclusive Westlake Park wearing nothing but a smile. He told Officer Welsh who arrested him that he had just been made a Lieutenant in Billy Sunday's army by the Lord and that his name is William Kalisman. He is being held for observation at the receiving hospital.

TESTS DEVICE TO RUN

WASHINGTON, July 30.—Sweeping food control legislation is today nearly ready for final congressional action.
President Wilson will prevail upon Chairmen Lever and Chamberlain to agree to modification of the so-called congressional war committee, which is the only obstacle remaining in the way of final agreement. Amendments have been changed so as not to reflect on President Wilson's management of the war.

The bill provides that Vice President Marshall and Speaker Clark each name a committee of five to go over all government war contracts. Agreement on all other matters is accomplished
or in sight.

The prohibition section finally forbids the use of fruits, cereals and other edibles in the manufacture of distilled spirits, prohibits importation of distilled spirits and authorizes the President to seize all spirits in bond or stock, paying a fair price.

U. S. ADVISES HOUSEWIVES

Saratoga was towed to anchorage.
There were no injuries. The Saratoga is in a sinking condition.

JAPANESE WARSHIPS
DESTROY SUBMARINE

LIST OF CORRECT DRAFT NUMBERS RECEIVED HERE

IN CHECKING UP CORRECTIONS ARE MADE

Adjustments Are Reported—Careful Comparison Made For Publication

Through the United Press the Register has received from the War Department at Washington a complete, correct list of the draft numbers as drawn at Washington. From this list the Register has carefully gone over the number and names as reported in the unofficial lists sent out by wire the day of the drawing.

With the correct list to go by, it is found that in the first 500 names in Exemption District No. 1 of this county, several changes are necessary. There are these additions: 43, C. L. Deaver, Santa Ana; 2124, F. H. Collins, Orange; 2008, C. C. Lambert, Tustin; 1896, R. H. Bennett, Capistrano; 288, C. R. Ashman, 119 Grand avenue; 1346, Fabian Bracamonte, El Modena; 1783, W. T. Carson, Irvine. P. L. Handley of Capistrano was drawn instead of Thomas Kline of Capistrano; E. F. Watrous of West Third instead of David Romo, Jr., though Romo was also drawn later in the early list; E. L. Johnston of 511 East Second instead of P. R. Ocampo; C. E. Marshall of Irvine instead of B. E. Litten, Orange; M. O. Robbins, Santa Ana, instead of George Peters, R. D. Santa Ana; F. E. Partidge, Fairhaven avenue, instead of O. P. O. Ristow, Orange; P. E. Martin, 416 French, instead of D. L. McMillan, 710 Spurgeon; O. M. Robbins, Orange, instead of John LaPorte, Orange; W. A. Willey, 823 Van Ness, instead of R. M. Walton, 615 West Fifth. The name of G. L. Coates, Orange, and A. R. Hilliard, Orange, went out of the first army list to places later in the draft list.

The first notification from District No. 1 will be for 362 men to appear for physical examination. After those 362 men are passed upon, if District No. 1 has not then its full quota of 181 men, the exemption board will notify a second lot of men to appear for examination. The second list will include some certain number, not to be settled upon until it is found how many are likely to be needed to complete the quota. The second list will be from the draft numbers already received immediately following the first 362 names drawn for this district. A number of changes were also made in the No. 2 list, as a result of checking up the original numbers wired here with the numbers as given out officially.

EXEMPTIONS ARE HEAVY AS EXAMINATIONS START
WASHINGTON, July 30.—The examination of drafted men began here today. Early reports indicate a heavier percentage of exemptions than had been anticipated.

VERBAL OBLIGATION PLEDGE HELD ILLEGAL
SACRAMENTO, July 30.—A verbal promise to assume the obligation of another does not hold good in law, according to a decision handed down today by the appellate judge, E. C. Hart in the Westport, Mendocino county, case of O. W. Sherwood vs. A. L. Lowell.

Sherwood had loaned J. W. Lowell, a brother of the defendant, $1000 upon a promissory note secured by a mortgage on realty, on May 30, 1908. Later, in a division of community property between Lowell and his wife, the mortgaged land was awarded to her. Mrs. Lowell in turn conveyed it to the Westport Mercantile Company, of which A. J. Lowell was president.

Lowell, Sherwood alleged, agreed verbally to take up the note and on a bill of goods bought from the company by him, gave credit for interest on the note. Sherwood had no written agreement. The lower court gave judgment in favor of Sherwood and an appeal was made. Judge Hart held that the assumption of an obligation by a third party must be in writing to be legal and that he credit for interest on the bill of goods was not sufficient.

'FOUR-MINUTE-MEN' TO TALK ON PATRIOTISM
SACRAMENTO, July 30.—At the request of the National Council of Defense, the state council has undertaken the organization of the "Four-Minute-Men," a body of capable speakers in every community, who will deliver patriotic four-minute talks in all the motion picture theaters of the state.

William W. Cowan, secretary of the state council, has been appointed chairman of the council of defense. He will at once commence to secure prominent attorneys and judges in each community to speak. The moving picture men already have agreed to allow the talks to be given.

These talks will deal with the war in general, the seriousness of the task confronting the nation, military activities and food conservation.

ANTI-WAR AGITATORS MUST KEEP SILENT
LOS ANGELES, July 30.—Persons opposed to war with Germany must keep still about it, is the declaration of Federal Judge Bledsoe, expressed when he charged the federal grand jury in session here. He said:

"To the forceful prosecution and successful termination of this war, we have, as a nation, through our chief executive, pledged our lives and our fortunes, everything that we are, and everything that we have."

"With the lives and the fortunes of our loved ones and of ourselves hanging in the balance, depending upon a complete unity of purpose, a harmonious concert of action, we cannot afford, out of consideration of mere self-defense, to brook opposition to the common purpose or to suffer open objection to the common intent."

"It follows, therefore, that anyone who may have in times past, for any cause, been opposed to this war, must needs now still his voice and his opposition or else betake himself out of our midst and out of our minds."

DEFENSE PUBLICITY OFFICE CHANGE MADE
SACRAMENTO, July 30.—Leo C. Owens, in charge of the publicity bureau of the State Council of Defense, will be located in the San Francisco offices of the council in the Phelan building after today in order to be in closer touch with Vice-Chairman Nafziger. Owens has been maintaining his offices in the state capitol.

POLITICAL PULL IS ABOLISHED BY WAR, SAYS GEO. MARTIN

United Press Man's Investigations Prove That 'Plum Tree' Is Dead

BY GEORGE MARTIN
(United Press Staff Correspondent)
WASHINGTON, July 30.—"Political pull" died a sudden and violent death when America went to war. It was, in fact, first on the casualty list of "old-established customs" which have met a sad fate since Uncle Sam began to battle for democracy. Careful investigation today proved this.

The politicians, congressmen, senators, professional lobbyists and "influential citizens" are still staggering from the blow.

But bit by bit it is being borne in upon their consciousness that Washington is a great world war capital.

Go into any of the teeming department offices today and you hear men on all sides dictating frigid and squelching replies to judges, county chairmen, state and local politicians from Maine to California and from the Great Lakes to the gulf explaining to them exactly what has happened.

Big "Boss" Makes Plea
Here's an example, heard in the office of a cabinet member replying to

AN-URIC! THE NEWEST DISCOVERY IN CHEMISTRY

This is a recent discovery of Doctor Pierce, who is head of the Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute at Buffalo, N. Y. Experiments at Doctor Pierce's Hospital for several years proved that there is no other eliminator of uric acid that can be compared to it. For those easily recognized symptoms of inflammation—as backache, scalding urine and frequent urination, as well as sediment in the urine, or if uric acid in the blood has caused rheumatism, it is simply wonderful how surely "An-uric" acts. The best of results are always obtained in cases of acute rheumatism in the joints, in gravel and gout, and invariably the pains and stiffness which so frequently and persistently accompany the disease rapidly disappear.

Go to your nearest drug store and simply ask for a 50-cent package of "An-uric," manufactured by Dr. Pierce, or even write Doctor Pierce for a free sample. If you suspect kidney or bladder trouble, send him a sample of your water and describe symptoms. Doctor Pierce's chemist will examine it, then Dr. Pierce will report to you, without fee or charge. "An-uric" is thirty-seven times more active than lithia in eliminating uric acid, and is a harmless but reliable chemical compound that may be safely given to children.

San Francisco, Cal.—"During the period of middle life I suffered excessively and was in danger of losing my mind. I read of Dr. Pierce's remedies, and decided to try 'Favorite Prescription.' I had only taken a few bottles when I commenced to improve. My health was perfect. I also took the 'Pleasant Pellets.' I sent for 'Common Sense Medical Advisor,' and we have had very little call for a doctor, as we always follow the advice of Dr. Pierce."

a plea for a special favor, regardless of the welfare of the nation, from a certain big politician and office holder in the middle west:

Dear Judge:—"I have your letter concerning Blank Blank Blank. I must decline to make any recommendation to the Secretary of Blank concerning the disposition of a matter which is, after all, his own business. Very truly yours."

Today came a letter from a Chamber of Commerce Secretary in a mid-western city begging a once influential Washington politician to use his influence in "putting across" an aviation training camp for his particular city. The politician sat down and wrote this reply:

"Don't Waste Time"
"Don't waste time trying to get politicians to plug for you. Don't send a lobby down here to 'put the thing over.' It won't do you a bit of good."

"Politics has been absolutely eliminated from this war. Merit alone wins. Make your application direct to the proper authority for what it is worth from the standpoint of war efficiency. That is the only basis on which it will be considered anyhow."

"All the government departments have been three weeks ahead of congress at every jump in the road since war began. They've forced congress into everything it has done and they have not time to listen to whines for political favor."

"In peace times department heads had time to listen. Some of them did. But not now. They don't have to. For the first time in their lives they are in a position to tell congress, senators and professional politicians to go to hell, and they certainly are doing it."

The selection of Des Moines as an army cantonment site is another case in point.

Sioux City Wild
Sioux City was wild for the camp. It learned that its big lobby, its letter-writing campaign, its personal pleas from Senator Kenyon and all the other frantic efforts it had made to land the camp had been of no avail and that St. Paul had been the chosen spot.

Immediately Sioux City set up a plot against St. Paul. It produced exhaustive reports to show that St. Paul was the only "wet" spot for many states around—and that Sioux City was morally better than St. Paul for the troops.

Result: The war department recalled its decision in favor of St. Paul. On for home went telegrams from the Sioux City lobby yelling "Hurrah, we've won!"

But no sooner had they turned away from the telegraph office and hotfooted it back to the war department to hear the sweet word that Sioux City had been chosen than they were met with the announcement that the camp would go to Des Moines.

Now, not only had Des Moines never asked for the camp, but it was the home of Senator Cummins, who was looked upon as not at all friendly to the administration and who never lifted his voice to make a single plea either for or against the location of that camp.

The Sioux Cityites were furious. They were informed that after they had succeeded in spiking St. Paul's guns, Secretary Baker had called for the War Board's report on the list of available cities, and, finding Des Moines next on the list after St. Paul had quietly marked off St. Paul and substituted Des Moines.

These are only a few of hundreds of instances in America's war capital every day which show the way the cold and uncomfortable political wind blows.

MORE BODIES SOUGHT
IN B. C. FOREST FIRES

FERNIE, B. C., July 30.—Eleven bodies have been recovered by rescuers trailing the forest fires, which trapped fifty-four employees of the Elk Lumber Company, along the Spruce river near here. Thirty are known to have escaped. The death toll will mount higher as the searching parties continue, it is believed. The fire is under control.

FERNIE, B. C., July 30.—Forest fires were still raging in various sections of the Spruce River valley near here today. At least eight are dead, with relief parties searching for more bodies. Several are missing. Millions of feet of lumber were destroyed. Besides eight bodies picked up in the trail of the fire a Russian fearfully burned and blind from flames, had gone insane from torture.

ACT TO GUARD GRAIN WAREHOUSES IN STATE

SACRAMENTO, July 30.—Definite steps to guard the great grain warehouses of the state, holding more than a hundred million sacks of grain and beans, from destruction by fire or damage by alien enemies, will be taken at a conference to be held Monday in San Francisco between state officials, railroad officials and warehouse representatives.

The meeting will be held in the new headquarters of the State Council of Defense in the Phelan building, the use of which has been donated to the council by Senator James D. Phelan.

Governor Stephens and A. H. Naftzger, vice-chairman of the council, will be present.

SCHOONER IS WRECKED ON REEF OFF CALIF.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 30.—The steam schooner Delworte today went on a reef at Point Arenas, and will probably be a total loss. The crew was rescued.

WITH DANGLING LEGS WRITES NAME IN THE AIR

Co. L Boys Jump From Moving Train and Come to In Hospital

Santa Ana men within the draft age have but a few days more in which to choose Company L as their company for service if they wish to join the local company instead of taking their chances of being assigned to other militia companies among strangers or to duty with the companies to be organized from the first draft.

Men from other companies are transferred to Company L now and recruits from other places are selecting this company for enlistment. Thirteen high school boys from a city near where the company is now located have enlisted.

WITH COMPANY L, SOMEWHERE IN CALIFORNIA, July 29.—Lee Kenyon had a slight accident while alighting from a moving train. According to his statement he leaped from the train and then heard a dull, sickening thud. When he became conscious, he felt of his cranium and discovered that he was the cause of said thud.

Witnesses say that as Kenyon leaped he waved his limbs wildly over the horizon and then fell. It was also stated that before alighting he wrote his name in the air with his feet. He is now wrapped in fine linen and it is said that he will recover.

The men of Company L are still leading rather an uneventful life "somewhere in California."

Our source of entertainment at night is the heart-rending vocal attempts of our neighbors, the coyotes. All night long the serene calm is broken by their undesired harmony. Their inspiring music is rendered in such a manner as to draw the sympathetic mind into believing that they have lost a very dear friend or relative.

We long to rise up and exterminate them but alas, we have received no orders to that effect. Then, as a guard peers into the deep gloom of the night the enemy is observed blinking silently forward. The brave guard seizes his trusty rifle and sallies forth with deadly intentions. He returns feeling rather foolish, for it is only a shrub or a bush.

The men are very glad to hear of the enlistment of the seven Orange county men and hope that more will follow their wise example.

Musician Barrett Deaver and Private Victor Deaver have arrived at camp from their furlough, which they spent at their home in Tustin.

Two more recruits have arrived from Arcadia. They are Charles Nelson and Ben Herskowitz. Nelson is well known among the Company L boys as he was a resident of Santa Ana for some time.

Warren Stanbaugh and Homer Nichols, our noted poet, were seen out hunting yesterday evening. They were armed with a 22 rifle and a fierce and determined look. They came back with only the rifle.

Dick Hawkins finds it very hard to meet all of his lady friends, as we are only allowed to go to town three times a week. The poor boy is almost heart-broken but refuses to allow anyone to act as his substitute.

Buck Phipps has been awarded his stripes and is now a corporal. He is in charge of the second squad. All the boys were very glad to see Buck advanced.

Company B has been ordered away and Company L will take charge of both sectors. This will give Company L more guard duty.

CALIFORNIANS TAKE PEACE ESSAY PRIZES

SACRAMENTO, July 30.—Two prizes in the national essay contest for normal and secondary schools conducted annually by the American School Peace League have been won by Californians, according to word received by Edward Hyatt, state superintendent of public instruction.

Mrs. Mary M. Barclay of the Los Angeles State Normal school captured the third Normal school prize of $25 with her essay on "What Can Education Do Towards the Maintenance of Permanent Peace?" Miss Mary Rathbun of the San Jose State Normal school received the fourth honorable mention in this division.

The third secondary school prize was won by Miss Edna A. Bull of the Los Angeles Polytechnic High School with her essay on "The Influence of the United States in the Adoption of a Plan for Permanent Peace."

PETITION TO CHANGE KAISER STREET NAME

OAKLAND, July 30.—Kaiser street in Oakland! Banish the thought! Also the street.

That's what residents of Kaiser street think anyway. They express their opinions in a petition filed with the council to have the street's name changed to plain American Twenty-ninth street, setting forth that Kaiser street is only a block long and in reality is a continuation of the street whose name its residents want to take.

WILLIAM WENDT, NOTED PAINTER, IS PERILED

Three Miraculously Escape
Death As Auto Turtles
Near Irvine

The lives of William Wendt, nationally known oil painter, his wife and a woman friend were imperiled this morning on the state highway near Irvine, when the machine in which they were riding turned turtle. The car turned upside down and the occupants were thrown, heading into the soft dirt by the side of the highway and escaped practically without a scratch. The women members of the party were taken to Los Angeles immediately after the accident. Wendt remained here to have the damage to the car repaired.

Wendt and his party had been to Capistrano, where he was engaged in painting. This morning they were en route to their home in Los Angeles when the accident happened. Bowling along the smooth highway at a fairly good clip, Wendt found it necessary to turn his machine partly off the boulevard to permit a car coming in the opposite direction to pass. In turning back on the pavement the front wheel of his car caught in the edge in such a manner as to crush the wheel, the machine turning upside down, resting on its top.

Wendt holds membership in the Southern California Auto Club and applied to Walter Galbraith, Santa Ana representative, for assistance. The machine is not insured in the club. Galbraith rendered every assistance possible.

Mr. and Mrs. Wendt reside at 2814 North Sichel street, Los Angeles.

MYSTERY BOX GIVES J. S. CHAMBERS THRILL

SACRAMENTO, July 30.—When State Controller John S. Chambers received a small box, neatly wrapped, from H. C. Craig of Milton, Calaveras county, he looked at it askance in view of recent disturbances. Then when he rattled it and something jarred within, he became still more cautious.

Finally, going to a table near a window, he opened the parcel carefully. Inside he found six chicken hawk heads and a note which said: "Please send warrant for bounty on these to W. Craig, Milton."

As there is no state bounty on chicken hawks, Craig will not get his warrant. But Chambers got a thrill.

JUNGLES TO FARMS

Food farming on the canal zone is booming. It has been said that Panama could feed a big army if all its land and resources were utilized. For a long time its farming possibilities have been neglected. It was feared that business interests in the United States would resent the loss of a good customer if Panama began to raise for itself the foods these interests had long been selling it. Agricultural experts were hard to get, too, so that heavy losses were anticipated if anything so new were tried on a large scale.

But these fears have been forgotten in the new policy. Panama is going to wipe out the waste jungle lands and put in their places farms of various kinds. There is already a huge chicken farm. Thousands of beef cattle are now being pastured along the canal. It is said that beef is probably cheaper in the canal zone than in any other part of the United States.

Bananas and yams are now to be raised with definite purpose. Garden truck as well as tropical fruit will be cultivated.

All these food products will be sold to canal employees in the government commissaries. To feed the 75,000 persons of the zone is not a small undertaking. But there is the land hitherto allowed to go to waste. And here are the war conditions that make Panama eager to render its food supply independent of ocean shipping. It is the kind of enterprise and thrift that is springing up all over the world. Waste of land, waste of resources, waste of every description is in disrepute today.

AMERICAN SOLIDARITY

Uruguay has gone farther than any other American nation in recognizing the unity of interests and spirit of the Western Hemisphere. That little republic has had the courage of its convictions and has with quiet dignity suspended the international agreement that prohibits the warships of a belligerent country remaining in the harbors of a neutral country more than 24 hours.

From the standpoint of Uruguay, this agreement is not repudiated. That country simply does not consider the United States as a "foreign" belligerent. Because of American solidarity the United States is one of us, is the Uruguayan stand, and her ships are therefore free to remain in our waters an indefinite length of time, just as they would in their own, or just as our ships would do.

Uruguay hopes for co-operation "which will enable America effectively to employ all its moral and material forces, and all its influence for right, in shaping the destinies of the world."

The United States, as the largest and most powerful member of this American brotherhood, should go more than half way to meet the South American countries. The attitude of United States business men toward South America has not always been so fair, honest and respectful as it should have been. That attitude has been changing rapidly of late. Whatever the North American republic can do to justify the growing confidence and trust of the southern countries, it should do. It will lose nothing by so doing, and stands to gain much.

THE DEADLOCK

That the Allied and Teutonic forces are at a deadlock on the western front is the conclusion reached by military experts. No appreciable advance has been made by either side for a long time. The new Haig offensive by land, sea and air, expected at any moment, may accomplish what no previous attempts have been able to do, but the general impression is that American ships and troops in large numbers will be needed to back it up.

That the German line cannot be broken through is now accepted. The only way in which the trick can be turned is by rolling back the Hindenburg line where it reaches the sea in Belgium. If this could be done, the U-boat bases would be taken and the biggest menace of the war be almost wholly removed.

There is no pessimism in high quarters about the final outcome. But more and more the conviction grows that the war is not to be ended soon, and that it will take the keenest effort on the part of all America to aid the Allies in bringing about the desired result.

If Russia could be depended upon the end would come sooner. Eventually Russia's confusion will give place to unified movement. But while the Russian army wavers, the Germans make their eastern positions sure. Delay on the part of the Allies is of the greatest assistance to the German strength.

It is time that Americans began to realize in a vital way the task they have undertaken. Wherever found, indifference and ignorance on the part of the American public must give way to self-sacrificing interest.

With Malice Toward None

By Henry James

Overdoing
Even in laudable enterprise, some people seem inclined to press the limit. For instance, there's the California mother who at the age of 53 has given birth to her twenty-eighth child, twenty-six of the number still living.

Colonel Roosevelt has advocated the large family, but probably a domestic circle expanding in a manner suggestive of a litter would be regarded by him as too much of a good thing.

Naturally the parents of this brood are poor. Had they been rich it is doubtful if they could have cared for such a brood, or equipped the members of it with a proper vitality.

To have a large family under favorable circumstances is all well enough, but half a dozen children more than tax the ordinary earning capacity of the old man, while a dozen mean privation, lack of training, and probably an appeal to charity.

Being father and mother to a regiment is not the realization of a perfect ambition.

La Follette and Gronna

In the past this column has recorded some harsh but merited censure of Senators La Follette and Gronna. It is too much trouble to repeat the censure, and readers are referred respectfully to the files.

Teutonic Rivalry

Hindenburg is accused of having been more cruel in Poland than Bismarck was in Belgium.

It is hard to realize that the Bismarck record for depravity and cold-bloodedness could be exceeded, but if anybody is equal to the task, Hindenburg is.

The Private Detective

Not long ago a private detective rushed armed into an apartment. He had no warrant, and apparently nothing but his gun and his gall.

The occupant of the apartment promptly shot the intruder, and while the coroner's jury was not authorized to bestow a medal for this deed, it indicated a regret that it was unable to do so.

Jocular

Berlin is said to be about to urge a plan for world disarmament.

Even in these unquiet times the Prussian must have his little joke.

No Chance

A paragrapher intimates that owing to unusually hot weather in Russia, the ex-czar might sell ice.

No chance. He can't even cut ice.

Sport Spirit Sags

One by one the little baseball leagues are quitting. They cannot draw crowds this season, and no wonder.

Even in war times people crave amusement, but they can't quite get into the mood to watch a lot of husky capers around in spiked shoes when so many other boys are wearing government footgear into places of danger.

The players that lay aside the bat and take up a rifle or something like that will have the best wishes of the very public that declines to sit in the bleachers.

Stogies

American soldiers are asking for stogies.

When a man craves a stogie he's just dying for a smoke, and the good people sending comfort bags to the front ought to forget their prejudices and really be generous.

Not to smoke is perfectly proper, but to tell the other fellow that he shan't smoke is being a Butinski.

Suggestion

Somehow the charge that a plot exists for the spreading of disease by infected couriers strikes me as being a phase of somebody's bad dream.

However, now that the plan has been suggested, there may be something doing.

Honest Conductors

Recently rejoicing in possession of a $5 piece, and being immersed in a paper, I handed the coin to the conductor for a fare.

It is said that similar experiences are common, and that the honest conductor discovering the error when he counts up for the day, turns the money into the office. Far from questioning the honesty of this conductor, I regret that inadvertently he must have forgotten to count up.

Two Men

Senator Reed of Missouri is a petty politician, and Mr. Hoover of California is neither petty nor a politician.

When the two fail to agree, the difference in their intrinsic qualities is likely to prejudice the judgment of the public.

Calling Names

Assistant Secretary Vrooman terms the men who seek big profits in war trade "a pernicious brood of Tories."

But why be so mild?

Analysis of County Finances

BY TAX PAYERS' ASSOCIATION OF CALIFORNIA.

In a brief article such as this it would be impossible to offer anything like an adequate statement with regard to county receipts from the sale of bonds. Tax Payers' Association of California hopes, at a later date, to go fully into this subject for the information of the people. For the present, let a few figures suffice to show how the counties are performing with respect to the sale of bonds.

In the fiscal years 1912 to 1916 inclusive, the counties of California reported to the State Controller receipts aggregating $41,738,503.27 from the sale of county bonds and $25,297,144.82 from the sale of district (mostly school) bonds, or a total of $67,035,648.09. This total excludes San Francisco's bond sale receipts for the year 1916.

This enormous bond income was in addition to all general and special tax receipts, and the revenues from all other sources.

By years, the county receipts from sale of bonds are reported as follows:

1912—County bonds, $7,240,932.01; District bonds, $5,415,305.61. Total, $12,656,237.62.

1913—County bonds, $13,723,303.13; District bonds, $3,859,614.66. Total, $17,582,917.79.
1914—County bonds, $10,180,121.11; District bonds, $4,279,367.12. Total, $14,459,488.23.
1915—County bonds, $7,106,714.06; District bonds, $5,928,810.94. Total, $13,035,525.00.
1916—County bonds, $3,487,432.96; District bonds, $5,814,046.49. Total, $9,301,479.45.

In the year 1916 the receipts from county bonds represented a per capita of $1.2905 for every man, woman and child in the fifty-seven counties; the district bonds represented a per capita of $2.1515, and the total of county and district bond receipts represented a per capita of $3.442. In one county the total per capita for its own population was over $29. In another over $22, and in another over $20.

County bonds were sold in 1916 by only eight counties, while thirty-five counties reported receipts from the sale of district bonds, most of which were on account of the schools.

Orange county's report for 1916 showed County bonds, none; district bonds, $75,094.70. Per capita $1.437.

SOME THINGS FOR AMERICA TO CONSIDER

(Written for the United Press.)

By Spencer Wilkinson, Professor of Military History, Oxford University.

ARTICLE THREE

LONDON, July 7 (By mail)—In the art of generalship, there are no changes. But this is a conflict concerning the spirit in which humanity is in future to govern itself or be governed.

The Prussians aspire to deal with Europe as Philip and Alexander of Macedon dealt with Greece. Their object is to be at the head of Europe and then of the world.

The conflict resembles also that between Carthage and Rome. The Romans were successful and for many centuries the civilized world spoke the Latin tongue and was regulated by Roman law. Out of that Roman world grew the world we know. Germany means to repeat the exploits of the Romans and make a German world.

If Germany succeeds in mastering Europe her mastery of America is only a question of time. That is why many of us think there can be no compromise and why we think the victory of the Allies is as needful for America as for Europe.

In war, time is everything and the character of a modern war, of a war for a cause that affects all the world, is that there is no limit to the liabilities to be incurred. It is a national affair. The whole nation must take part. Short of that it is folly to look for victory.

If America is to fight with her might she needs a great statesman to guide her and a great commander for her army and her navy. Of the many qualities of a commander I already have spoken. Those of a statesman when America produced a statesman. No one suspected him of being a great man. He was regarded as a tactician de March, is the basis of the modern marching arrangements of the French army, by which the troops cover a longer distance with less fatigue than those of any other army in the world.

I should not like to let you go without touching on a larger aspect of the war. The struggle now under way has had no parallel for many centuries. The changes in the machinery of war though they have been enormous are really but a trifle. In

CANNING LESSONS

Canned Peaches

If peaches are packed in the jars with the pit cavity down more fruit can be put into the containers and a finer looking product is obtained.

Peaches should be washed carefully in cold water, dipped into boiling water a moment or two until the skin slips and then into cold water for an instant. The skin is then slipped off, the peaches cut into halves and the pits removed and the halves packed into jars with pit cavity down. A few pits should be placed near the bottom of the jar to give flavor to the fruit. Add medium syrup boiling hot to fill jars, partly tighten tops and sterilize for sixteen minutes in boiling water. After complete sterilization, remove jars from the boiling water, tighten tops and invert to cool in place free from draughts. Wrap in dark paper to prevent loss of color, label and store in cool, dry place.

Canned Plums

Canned plums are better if large size and thick flesh. All plums are canned whole without peeling. Pack tight in hot jars and fill with boiling hot syrup of light density. Sterilize for sixteen minutes in boiling water after partially tightening tops. Remove from sterilizer, finish sealing and invert to test for leakage and to cool.

Peach and Plum Butter

Wash fruit carefully and remove "fuzz" on peaches by rubbing with a damp towel. Do not peel. Place in an enamel-lined preserving kettle, add a little water and cook until very tender. Squeeze through a fruit press or colander to remove skins and stones. Place pulp in clean boiling kettle, add sugar to taste and boil until thick and rich in color, stirring constantly to prevent sticking to the kettle. Spices may be added if desired but the butter is generally considered better if unscented. Pour the boiling mass into hot, sterilized jars and seal at once.

LEARN NEWS OF DEATH OF U. OF C. LECTURER

BERKELEY, July 30.—News of the death of Prof. Jesse Beardsley Carter at Bologna, Italy, on July 20, has been received on the University of California campus. Carter died of apoplexy.

Prof. Carter was a regular session lecturer at the University of California and also lectured at summer school sessions previous to going to Rome, where he was director of the American Academy in Rome. He also had served on the faculty of Princeton University.

IRATE FARMER BLOCKS CARBON CANYON ROAD

LOS ANGELES, July 30.—Furious because he was refused permission to cross the Rindge estate holdings, Jack Henry, who has a ranch in Carbon Canyon at the entrance to the property, turned back, got his other automobile, stalled them across the road, chained them together and held up traffic for several hours until he was arrested. Formal charges were to be made today.

Do You Need a Beach Cottage?

Where you and your family can spend a few weeks during the warm summer months.

Only a few days or perhaps a week end will send you back to your work refreshed and much more efficient.

You and your family will like Huntington Beach. It is cool, restful, quiet and an ideal climate at any season of the year especially from May until October when the interior is sweating and worrying with the heat.

Huntington Beach has four miles of unexcelled beach front, a high and sightly townsite, wide beautiful streets, fine boulevard and suburban car connections and it is a city of homes all the year.

You will find property there lower priced than at the older beach cities.

SPORTS

By H. C. Hamilton

NEW YORK, July 30.—The western brother of the east is rallying to the cause, has grabbed sport by the hair and is holding tight. The west, it appears, is going to save American sports from complete annihilation in the hurry-bury business of war-making.

St. Louis has come back with a regular punch and is going to stage the A. A. U. game with all the frills the east usually provides, and is adding some.

There will be no Army-Navy football game next fall, for the well-known obvious reason. For different reasons there will be no Harvard-Yale game, and for the same reason Princeton's colors will not form a background for a Yale or Harvard score next fall.

Some of the eastern colleges are making a desultory effort at retaining sports. Pennsylvania, for instance, has made a valiant fight against completely wrecking the games. However, the gain will be little. Yale and Harvard are figuring on giving the freshmen a chance at it.

In the west most of the big colleges are going right through with it. The men who are not drafted will be right in their playing football schedules. Elmer Miller is showing signs of becoming a real outfielder for the Yankees.

Always an excellent fielder, this youngster has begun to crack the ball. He has been moving recently at a rapid gate toward the select places held by a few players like Cobb, Speaker, Sisler and Melvin. Undoubtedly he would find welcome written on the Yankee map any time he carries a .300 batting mark around with him.

Those who figured Eddie Plank through should count the games he has won and the excellent pitching performances the veteran has turned in. Plank, although past 40, is still very effective. He's good for a fine 1917 season, and probably 1918.

Counting Plank out is like hanging a time knockout on Hans Wagner.

CHINA WEDDING

Mr. and Mrs. F. L. Blain Celebrate Anniversary, Friends Plan Surprise

Saturday the 28th inst being the twentieth wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. F. L. Blain, a most pleasant surprise was planned in their honor by their daughter, Mrs. Beulah Van Delinder.

At about 8 o'clock their comfortable home at 525 East Washington avenue was filled with the sound of joyful voices, as the friends and relatives gathered in honor of the occasion.

Among the out-of-town guests were: Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Blain, brother of F. L. Blain; Mr. and Mrs. M. Blain and Miss Naomi Blain, all of Norwalk, Calif.; Mr. and Mrs. Seavy of Orange and Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Van Delinder and son Hilmond of Los Angeles.

The evening was very enjoyably passed in social conversation and music and light refreshments were served.

The friends as a token of their appreciation, presented Mr. and Mrs. Blain with a number of beautiful china pieces.

After congratulations and showering them with best wishes for a bright and prosperous future, the guests departed sincerely hoping the happy recipients might yet be spared to their families and friends for many years, realizing the world will have been better as a result of the benign influence of their lives.

Treat for Pitters

The pitters and employees at the apocrit pitting camp of S. T. McNeal on North Baker street were given a treat on Saturday evening, having completed their work for the season.

About twenty-four sat down to the bounteous supper, which was topped with ice cream in abundance.

TOAST FROM TRENCHES
Here's to the end of kings and queens
And general staffs and submarines!
Here's to the day when men, grown wiser,
Refuse to bow to czar or kaiser.
Here's to the end of shrapnel shell!
Here's to the end of war and hell,
The weeks of men, the hate, the fears,
The wounds, the mighty flood of tears!
Here's to the end of exploitation,
Poverty's grinding degradation,
The waste of competition death,
And one grand commonwealth instead!
Here's to the day that is to be
With man and child and woman free!
Here's to the end of all autocracy!
Here's to the coming world democracy!

Leonard Hamaker Celebrates His Twenty-First Birthday Saturday

Leonard E. Hamaker, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Hamaker of 1131 Hickory street, celebrated his twenty-first birthday on Saturday evening. A sumptuous six o'clock dinner was served, the table being prettily appointed and decorated with rich-hued zenias.

The young man received many congratulations upon attaining his majority and among other appreciated gifts was a fine watch from his parents.

The evening was pleasantly passed with lively conversation, besides the family those present being Mr. and Mrs. White of this city, grandparent of the honored young man, Miss Pauline Reid, Mr. and Mrs. G. A. Axelsson and Miss Floy Axelsson of Los Angeles.

Pleasant Family Dinner

Mr. and Mrs. F. E. Bangs of Orange avenue were hosts yesterday at a pleasant family dinner served at their home. The house and table were decorated with lovely roses.

Besides the hosts and Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Stearns and daughter, those present were Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Bangs and daughter from San Bernardino, Mrs. Elmer Bangs and granddaughter from Cortland, N. Y. The two latter will pass two weeks here with their relatives. They have been visiting in San Bernardino and find the weather here in great comparison. San Bernardino having been experiencing a wave of heat.

Bigger THAN YOUR BODILY COMFORT AND HEALTH?

When the days are long and hot, and to stand the grind taxes our store of health to the limit—

We should think of dress as we think of fresh air and good food—a means to right living.

It is high time that men realized the foolishness of stuffy woollens and worsteds for August and September and turned to clothes more in keeping with the weather.

Although unlike any lightweight cloth made, Palm Beach takes the place of all of them, adding a satisfying comfort and economy that sane men are quick to see and value.

But Palm Beach is not a shade of cloth, as many think, nor is it a name that may be used for any fabric of similar appearance.

It is the trade-marked name applied to a special structure, that produces the most remarkable featherweight fabric ever made.

We show Palm Beach Suits in plain gray or the natural tan shade; either in conservative or belt models. Price $10. Pants $3.50; Cotts $6.50. Wash? Like a white handkerchief.

M'KEAN FUNERAL HELD
AT 10 THIS MORNING

Funeral services over the remains of J. M. McKean were held this morning at the chapel of Smith and Tutill, a large number of friends paying their last tribute. Rev. J. A. Stevenson of the First Presbyterian church officiated. Two vocal solos, "Nearer My God To Thee" and "There is No Light There," were rendered by Mrs. John Sauters of Tustin.

The pallbearers were Stephen Ross, Lloyd Mateer, J. A. Ketscher, J. E. Kellogg, C. C. Collins and R. J. Blee. Egbert McKean, of the aeronautical school in the North, and Mrs. Carrie Benaree of Orosi, son and daughter of the deceased, came here to attend the funeral. Ross McKean, another son, who is in the navy at Seattle, was unable to get away. Other children who mourn the loss of a devoted father are Mrs. John Talbott, Miss Helen McKean and Bobbie McKean. Mrs. Talbott and husband will leave in a few days for Brooklyn, Iowa, where they will make their home.

The deceased had been a resident of this city for twenty-five years, during the most of which time he was engaged in the real estate business. He is survived by a widow and the sons and daughters named.

LA HABRA GETS RURAL ROUTE ON AUGUST 1

LA HABRA, July 30.—Beginning with August 1, La Habra is to have a rural delivery route with the La Habra post office of late or the planning of one man. It is the result of public spiritedness and hard work on the part of several, backed by public opinion and universal desire for a period of several years. The Farmers' Club, the C. of C. and the M. and M. had an important part in the work.

The new route will benefit in the matter of local mails, as before the mail went to Los Angeles, back to Fullerton and then out over the route, while now it will go direct. But the best is the fact that La Habra Valley folk can say they live in La Habra, address La Habra, Route 1, and not have to give the name of a town some miles away.

In presenting the matter the committee gave a few facts about the petition. Ninety-five per cent of the patrons signed, only two on the Whittier side and two within the city limits of Fullerton not signing. There were sixty-one heads of families living along the route who said they did not use it, because of inefficient service.

LA HABRA MERCHANTS'
BODY TO NAME HEADS

LA HABRA, July 30.—The La Habra M. and M. Association will hold its annual election of officers tonight. In connection there is to be a smoker and feed, and a general good time.

It is the desire of the committee in charge that not only every member be present, but that all interested in the work of the association come and hear more of it. The M. and M. in the last year has striven, with success, to be of benefit to the town and to the members. It is desired by officers and members to enlarge the scope of the work, and every resident of the community whether merchant, farmer or professional man, will be given an opportunity to join.

PERSHING'S FILM MAN IN PARIS HAS ARDUOUS DAY OF IT

Paul Rainey Prefers Perils of the Jungle to Dodging
French Crowds

BY W. S. FORREST
(United Press Staff Correspondent)
PARIS, July 30.—Paul Rainey, millionaire American sportsman, finds making movies of American troops in frenzied Paris crowds far more hazardous than photographing ferocious wild beasts in African jungles.

Rainey is one of the official photographers for the American Expeditionary Force in France. He came to France with the American Red Cross but was prevailed on to turn his endeavors toward recording every important move of the all-important American "Sammy."

Rainey's movies of lions, tigers and other wild beasts taken in British West Africa are known throughout America. It was he who first took Texas dogs to the jungle to track big game. Days and even weeks were required by the American picture hunter to secure good films of hippopotami, rhinoceros and other rare specimens of the African wilds.

The occasion of American troops marching through Paris on July 4, 1917, furnished Rainey more excitement than weeks of jungle hunting. Beginning at the Invalides, where General Pershing received the flags and banners which may some day be famous in American fighting records, Rainey began snapping the soldiers, officers and the crowd. Dashing at top speed with his movie camera through sardine-like masses of people he secured every move of the ceremony. Then came a wild dash through Paris in a big automobile, stopping occasionally to take a view of the marching American regulars and the wild crowds that cheered them. Arrival at Picpus cemetery, the place of Lafayette's tomb, the intrepid jungle photographer again braved frenzied crowds and forced his way into the graveyard. Assistants followed closely behind with big rolls of new film ready to recharge the camera.

"Phew," said Rainey after it was all over. "Another day like this I'm ready to go back to Africa with the normal."

gentle lions and tigers."

Rainey, who has deserted his plantation in Missouri, his home in Cleveland, his New York apartment and his bungalow in Nairobi, Africa, to serve Uncle Sam with the camera, has probably "snapped" every important move made by the "Sammys" since they arrived in France. He was on the dock at "the port," "somewhere in France," when the troops arrived. He followed them with his movies to their temporary camp near the town. A few days later found him cranking the box at the railroad station when the famous battalion arrived to march through Paris. Braving all the dangers of Paris crowds Rainey secured the best set of American movies made on the Fourth of July. He is going to follow the "Sammys" to their permanent camp "Somewhere in France" and from there to the firing line.

Americans sitting comfortably in American movie houses will soon begin to see the work of the American millionaire photographer who is working for Uncle Sam just because the deeds of the American army must be preserved for posterity.

WAITERS AID FIGHT AGAINST LIVING COST

LOS ANGELES, July 30.—Black-coated, white shirted waiters are coming to the rescue of the victims of the H. C. L.

They are not specially appointed emissaries of Herbert Hoover nor are they members of the Council of Defense, but they're "doing their bit."

According to the waiters, diners now are requiring professional advice from them and not mere service. Dozens of times daily diners call the waiters into the conference over the menu card, asking advice on what is the cheapest thing to order.

"It's not unusual for people to tell me they are going to spend just 75 cents for a dinner and ask my advice as to how to make it do the most work," declared one waiter today. "Sometimes they admit that they are short of money and want me to help them make their selections and other times they say they are just being economical."

HAMILTON CITY SUGAR FACTORY TO REOPEN

HAMILTON CITY, Cal., July 30.—After having been idle for a considerable time the Hamilton City beet sugar factory of the Sacramento Valley Sugar Company will resume operations about August 15, it has been announced. The plant now is practically ready for operation. It is planned to work a 12-hour shift as soon as the factory opens.

Although the beet crop in many fields does not average over 70 per cent yield, the beets are of particularly large size this year, so that the total tonnage will not be far below the normal.

STORY OF GERMAN INTRIGUE WILL BE TOLD BY GERARD

Publication of Inside Facts on War Will Start Next Sunday

WASHINGTON, D. C., July 30.—Judge J. W. Gerard has resigned from the diplomatic service for good and all. Such is the judgment of official Washington. And the reasons reflect nothing but credit upon Judge Gerard. Nevertheless should Judge Gerard be accredited to any other nation, even one of those with whom our friendly relations are untroubled, the chances are that the formula "persona non grata" would be returned.

Mark Twain, in his "Yankee at Prince Arthur's Court" drew a picture no more genuinely humorous than Gerard in Germany. The Kaiser, the Crown Prince, Hollweg, Zimmerman, met and talked with this American and then went on talking their plans, making their boasts, spinning intrigues to enmesh the United States in trouble in Japan, in Haiti and in Mexico as unconscious of the fact that he was observing them, as the members of "Prince Arthur's Court" were unconscious of the telephone or other modern means of communicating.

With the official sanction of the State Department, Gerard is publishing, through the newspapers of the widest circulation in the United States, his memoirs in serial form. The Los Angeles Examiner has the exclusive right for publication of Gerard's story in the Southwest and will start the serial next Sunday, August 5. No one knows just how much he realized from the sale of the serial rights; the bidding was spirited, and the figure was a large one. The royalties from the book, when published, will be heavy because it will be made a part of the reference library of every man interested in current history. As a lawyer, Gerard is sure of a handsome income. So there is nothing for him to worry about, even though he is definitely out of the diplomatic service. He cannot be a diplomat again, with the rank of ambassador, because he served his nation so well at Berlin.

BERLIN'S PLOTS AGAINST THE UNITED STATES

KEEN EYES SEE FOREST FIRES, CALL HELP

Eighty-Five Lookouts Are Established In This State
By Federal Force

SAN FRANCISCO, July 30.—The comparatively little damage done by the hundred fires that have occurred so far this season on the National Forests in California is due largely to the fast work in discovering and reporting them by the lookout men, according to the forest officers. The national forests are constantly under the eyes of trained watchers stationed on high peaks during the fire season. There are eighty-five lookouts in the national forests in this state. Their work demands ability to concentrate, keen eyesight, quick judgment. No lookout man is considered efficient who does not discover, locate, and size up a fire within three minutes from the time the smoke first appears above the tree tops. Two minutes more are allowed him to get the dispatcher on the telephone and deliver his report. The standard of the Forest Service demands that the dispatcher in turn shall not be longer than two minutes in communicating with the ranger nearest the fire, delivering instructions and starting the fire suppression force in motion.

This takes much practice on the part of the lookout man particularly, and in order to keep him up to the mark and to test out his speed and accuracy, Forest inspectors occasionally set false fires or smudges. The lookout's job is said to be one of the loneliest in the world, and is comparable to that of the lighthousekeeper or on a rockbound coast, with this difference: the lookout man is under a strain 16 to 18 hours a day watching for fires. He is hired for the summer months only, and is usually a homesteader, miner or prospector during the rest of the year.

The lookout houses are built on peaks from 6000 to 10,000 feet high, usually miles from the nearest human habitation. They are often exposed to the full force of the winds and storms. Several houses have been struck by lightning during recent years, although they are studded with lightning rods. When Mt. Lassen first broke into eruption a few years ago, the lookout house on the rim of the crater was smashed to kindling wood.

The house is seldom more than a one-room square box, its sides largely of glass and its furnishings so arranged that even while cooking and eating the occupant is able to keep his eyes on the forest. Supplies are packed in to the lookout weekly by the forest rangers. Water and wood he must obtain for himself, and at night, watch is not kept for fires during the hours of darkness. The lookout's means of communication are the telephone and heliograph, and travelers through the forest, attracted by mirrorlike flashes of light on some high peak, may be observing a lookout man reporting fire by "sun talk" or receiving the latest gossip of camp and range.

The discovery of fire by stationary lookouts is a comparatively recent development in the national forests. Before this method was used, it often happened that fires burned for days before discovery. It is now seldom that a fire is not discovered within a few minutes after its origin. Further developments in the fire discovery and suppression system of the Forest Service are expected. The wireless telegraph has been installed in one forest in the Southwest, and a lookout man circling above the forest in an airplane, it is said, was used to great advantage last summer in the East. At the conclusion of the war, with thousands of trained aviators and machines available, it is expected that the airplane method of fire detection may become common in the national forests of California.

SPOKANE PASTOR EXTENDED CALL BY BAPTISTS

Rev. Frederick G. Davis Will Occupy Local Pulpit, It Is Practically Assured

That Rev. Frederick G. Davis, pastor of the First Baptist church at Spokane, Wash., will occupy the pulpit of the First Baptist church of Santa Ana is practically assured, it was stated today, following a unanimous vote in the local church yesterday to extend a call to the northern minister.

Rev. Davis occupied the local Baptist pulpit as supply for three weeks. That his services were eminently satisfactory to the Santa Ana congregation is evidenced by the unanimity of the vote taken yesterday.

CITRUS CANCER STUDY IN FLORIDA PLANNED

SACRAMENTO, July 30.—Avery Hoyt, field deputy of the State Horticultural Commission for Southern California, will leave this week for Florida to spend a month investigating the methods of controlling the citrus cancer in that state, upon which more than a million dollars already has been spent.

State Horticultural Commissioner G. H. Hecke considers it of utmost importance to the citrus industry of California, valued at $200,000,000, to have one of the field deputies thoroughly trained in detecting and controlling this most dangerous of citrus fruit diseases, in case it should ever be brought into the state. The only successful methods of fighting it have consisted of eradicating infected orchards by pouring distillate over the trees and setting them afire.

Citrus cancer is a bacterial disease and highly contagious upon contact. An eastern tourist, who has been in contact with infected Florida oranges or lemons, may visit a California orange grove and infect the fruit. By rigid quarantine and inspection of all citrus shipments, citrus cancer has so far been kept out of California.

Upon Hoyt's return he will be stationed in the citrus belt.

PERSONAL AND SOCIAL NEWS NOTES FROM ORANGE CITY
SEEN BY CAPTIVES

ORANGE, July 27.—The Sunday school class taught by Miss Prince Bibber which is known by the mysterious letters, C. B. G.'s, entertained the boys' class of similar ages, taught by Miss Scarritt, last evening in the Presbyterian church parlors, with a box social.

Attending the pleasant party were the young Louise Holton and Grace Gordon, of Whittier, house guests of Margaret Parker, Margaret Campbell, Margaret Parker, Helen Smith, Frances Scarritt, Alice Parker, the Masters Lyle Richards, Nell Granger, William Smith, Lloyd Hollister, Bronson Buxton, Harion Drum, George Slater, Donald Pearson, Kemper Anderson; the teachers of the classes, Miss Bibber and Miss Scarritt.

Little Katherine Johnson, assisted by her mother, Mrs. O. J. Johnson, was hostess yesterday afternoon to a party of little friends at her home on North Glassell street, in celebration of her tenth birthday anniversary.

The party was a daisy party, this pretty flower playing a prominent part in all the arrangements. Decorations were in yellow and white and a very interesting game was played called "daisy in the dell."

The big yellow birthday cake, which was white as snow inside, bore ten yellow candles, and while Miss Katherine blew them out the little friends offered happy wishes. The company consisted of the Misses Dorothy Young, Hazel Campbell, Helen Dole, Helen Parsons, Lola Harris, Lois Hallman, Frances Hallman, Thelma McNeil, Edith Lush, Alice Parker and Katherine Johnson.

Mrs. Emma Buszek, who, with Mrs. Grace Enyart of Los Angeles, has been enjoying the summer at Mrs. Buszek's cottage in Arch Beach, will come to her Orange home this evening for a short visit. Mrs. Buszek is rapidly regaining her usual health since the recent operation in a Los Angeles hospital.

Dr. and Mrs. J. C. Crawford left early this morning for Cabazon, where they will ascertain the amount of damage done their ten acre ranch near there which was burned over in the fire caused by the Southern Pacific freight and light engine collision Wednesday.

Mrs. H. F. Dalrymple of Riverside, who has been enjoying a vacation of several weeks at Long Beach, visited her father, Robert Cameron, yesterday.

Mrs. L. B. Stark of North Olive leaves soon for Rapid City, Montana, where she will make her future home. She is traveling over the Southern Pacific.

Mrs. T. M. Flippin is recovering from an illness following an electrical shock received while undergoing a slight operation on her arm a week ago in Los Angeles.

Miss Louane Leech returned home yesterday from Anaheim, where she has spent the past week visiting her aunt, Mrs. Henry Adams.

Rev. and Mrs. Pearson are enjoying a visit from Mrs. Dr. Holton of Whittier, sister of Mrs. Pearson, and two granddaughters, Miss Louise Holton and Miss Grace Gordon.

J. F. Craemer and family returned home yesterday from a trip to Eureka with the California Press Association.

Mrs. Peter Goddickson and two children, Elsie and Grant, of McPherson, returned to their home Wednesday evening after a two weeks' stay at Newport Beach. Mrs. Goddickson was recuperating from a recent critical illness following a most serious operation in the Anaheim hospital.

Fred Pritshaw, a seaman in the navy, who is stationed near Seattle, will return to his post tomorrow after a short visit here with his brother, Alfred Pritshaw.

Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Ensign and Mrs. Carl Pister will motor to San Diego tomorrow. They will visit Mr. and Mrs. Ensign's son, Elmer Ensign, who is with the coast artillery.

Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Eljah and daughter, and Mr. and Mrs. G. E. Hart, motored to San Diego this afternoon to spend the week end.

Fred P. Stever returned from Los Angeles yesterday, where he successfully passed the examination for military service. He will enlist in the coast artillery.

A. H. Dusen, of North Shafter, will leave Tuesday for Marysville and Stutgart, Kan., over the Southern Pacific, for a business trip.

Mr. and Mrs. F. E. Whitaker, of Alameda, Kan., are visiting with the F. H. Mellor and G. E. Shriver families in Orange. The entire party will pass today at Laguna Beach.

Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Yordy have returned from a week's fishing trip at Big Bear. Rev. and Mrs. George A. Hunt, of Englewood were guests yesterday of Dr. and Mrs. A. H. Tyrrell, of North Orange.

J. D. McBride made a business trip to Santa Ana yesterday.

Ralph Woods was a visitor at Balboa yesterday.

C. F. Schubert of Los Angeles visited his brother, M. A. Simon, today.

Miss Marjorie Richards is visiting relatives at Long Beach.

J. E. Vaughn went to Los Angeles today to attend to business affairs.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Jorgensen were long beach visitors today.

The O'Connell family will hold a regular meeting tomorrow night.

W. B. WILLIAMS, County Clerk.

C. R. ALLEN, Attorney for Petitioner.

ANOTHER BOOST MANY MERCHANTS IN PRICE OF MILK DUE AUG. 1

OF CITY TODAY LIABLE TO ARREST

Local Distributors Compelled to Meet Los Angeles Prices, Effective Wednesday

New Law Makes It Misdemeanor to Fail to Register Sale Concealed Weapons

Up goes the high cost of living another notch.

Milk is due for an elevation of one cent per pint, 2 cents per quart on the first of the coming month, which is next Wednesday, according to local dairymen today.

Los Angeles milk dealers have scheduled a similar increase for the first of the month, and local dealers have been forced to meet the competition. Local distributors buy considerable of their supply from dairymen who sell wholesale, and the latter would turn their product to the Los Angeles markets under the higher price if the home distributor did not meet the quotations.

Today milk is 6 cents a pint and 11 cents a quart. Next Wednesday it will be 7 cents the pint and 12 cents the quart.

SENT TO JAIL TEN DAYS FOR WABBLE DRIVE

Justice Cox Keeps Up His Lick—Frankie Gets Potato Plant Judgment

Justice Cox added another name to the list of those who have been sent to jail by him for speeding or for driving an automobile while intoxicated. This morning Jack Cavanaugh, arrested by Deputy Sheriff Maxwell, was convicted, and sent to jail for ten days. Maxwell and Lee Brown testified that Cavanaugh was driving on South Bristol street, and that his machine was wobbling from side to side.

Judgment Given

This morning Justice Cox gave judgment of $182.05 to R. E. Franke against R. S. Barker for sweet potato plants that Franke had raised. Franke said he had the order from Barker before he planted the plants, and then Barker refused to take them. Franke put on witnesses to show that the plants had been inspected and passed by the horticultural commissioner.

HITS SAND POCKET, SEEKS MORE TIME UPON CANYON JOB

"Conditions over which I have no control require me to ask for an extension of time to September 15," is the wording of a petition to the Board of Supervisors from H. Clay Kellogg, who has the contract for work on the Santa Ana Canyon road.

"Struck a sand pocket," continued the petition, "in pile line, which requires lengthening the poles and time to season."

Deputy District Attorney Menton ruled that protests must be in writing, and the time for filing them has gone by. Supervisor Schumacher is in conference with the La Habra delegations.

SACRAMENTO VALLEY BEES INDUSTRIOUS

CHICO, July 30.—California bees are humming with industry. Evidently realizing that unless the food supply of the nation is increased, Uncle Sam will be in danger of getting stung, the bees are doing their share.

Sacramento Valley bee-keepers report that the yield of the hives this year is above the average both as to quantity and quality. F. C. Williams, one of the leading honey producers, took 3000 pounds of honey from his hives in a day and a half. Others have similar reports to make.

The price for comb honey is from 13 cents to 15 cents a pound, the highest ever attained—adding to the prosperity of the bee-keepers.

NO SHORT SKIRTS, IS EDICT AT S. F. NORMAL

SAN FRANCISCO, July 30.—Visions of stockings will be barred by the new dress regulations announced today for teachers at the San Francisco Normal School by Miss E. A. Levy, principal.

"There must be no short skirts."

The dress rules include:

- Skirts long enough to conceal hosiery.
- No transparent waists.
- No white shoes.
- No low neck dresses.
- Noisy colors are barred.

HILL ACQUIRES MILES GROCERY STORE TODAY

Well Known Grocer Adds Another to His Chain of Grocery Stores

Sam Hill today added Store No. 4 to his string of grocery stores in this city by acquisition of the Miles store at the corner of Fourth and Broadway.

The latest acquisition by the well-known grocer is the largest in the chain and will further increase the buying powers of Hill. Miles has conducted the store for the last four or five years, during which time he has made a number of changes which have added to its general scope.

The same policy that has characterized his management of the other three stores will be pursued in the conduct of the Miles store.

Hill has made a remarkable success of his enterprises in the city and the fact that he has purchased the Miles store indicates that there is no limit to the amount of business he can handle.

54 VARIETIES BIRDS FOUND ON U. C. CAMPUS

BERKELEY, July 30.—Summer session students are not the only living things on the University of California campus.

Not by a long shot! For scientists announce that 54 varieties of birds, ranging from the Anna humming bird in the botanical gardens to the green-backed goldfinch in the Green theater, have been counted within the precincts of California's great knowledge factory. Twenty-five of these varieties are seen almost daily while the others are more retiring and require search to locate. Thirty-three of the varieties are permanent residents and twenty-one are merely attending the summer session.
